THE GOVERNOR IS RIGHT.

The position of Governor Dickerson in refusing to accept the gift of $400,000 in North Carolina bonds is undoubtedly correct. In the reconstruction days the carpet baggers who were in control of the state borrowed $10,000,000 to improve the railroads, and every dollar was stolen. When the people of the state came into power later they repudiated the loan and the bonds were purchased by Wall street sharpers at a trifle of their alleged face value. They tried to make a gift to several states but as soon as the conditions were investigated the officials refused to have anything to do with the scheme. An individual cannot sue a state, but one state can bring suit against another state, and if the sharpers are successful in forcing the gift on the governor, Nevada will be used in an effort to collect the amount. However, the sharpers are not concerned as to the outcome and in the meantime will sell the worthless bonds to the gullible public at a big profit on the strength of the suit being started. The whole scheme to sell the bonds was exposed in one of the magazines some time ago.

DECIDED HIT AT NEW NEVADA LAST EVENING

"BROWN'S IN TOWN WAS VERY CLEVER; WILL PLAY HERE AGAIN.

Last night the Aylesworth Stock company scored another hit, when they presented the screaming farce comedy, "Brown's In Town." The house was very large and by the applause the audience seemed extremely well pleased with the show. "Brown's In Town" is one of those comedies that is a regular puzzle, the complications are so many that even after you have seen it you can't describe what it was all about, and yet it is thoroughly consistent and is certainly a very clever piece of work on the part of the author, Mark E. Swan. The specialties between the acts were very fine indeed. Bruce Kent sang three very catchy songs and made a decided hit. The three clever little Bihel sisters, as usual, brought down the house. Their act is very prettily costumed and their dancing was remarkably clever for such young people. Manager Aylesworth announced that after the next play, "Merely Mary Ann," the company will go to Goldfield for two weeks and will then return to Tonopah for another week, so although their stay is drawing to a close we can look forward to their return in a short time.

The company will give a matinee this afternoon.

ADLERS SUITS NOW ON THE MARKET

A consignment of Adler's nobby suits, the latest in spring styles, was received by Ryan and Stenson last evening and will be unpacked and placed on display today. The suits are of the latest in eastern wear and are the correct thing for this summer. The prices are right, making the garments within the reach of all. The fame of the House of Adler, reaches from coast to coast, for the manufacturers' guarantee goes with every suit. The firm of Ryan and Stenson have represented Adler for several years and each season are forced to increase their orders for the suits.

Ten square miles of land on both sides of the Walker river were thrown open for settlement yesterday morning. The land was withdrawn from entry several years ago when the government planned an irrigation system, but owing to difficulty with T. B. Rickey, the reclamation project proved a failure. Now the land is available for homesteading or entry under the desert land act.

YOUNG TREES ARE PLANTED IN BASEBALL PARK

WORK OF TRANSPLANTING CARRIED OUT SUCCESSFULLY YESTERDAY.

Tonopah's ball grounds, that formerly resembled a beaten spot in the desert and were entirely free from vegetation, were yesterday transformed into what might be termed a Garden of Eden. Pardon the phrase, but with the transplanting of 250 trees, the appearance is so great that the park may well be termed as something better than an oasis in this desert country.

Under the charge of the committee appointed at the meeting of the volunteers and ball fans Wednesday night, a half hundred citizens journeyed to the grounds yesterday morning and within two hours the work had been completed. The high school students volunteered and attended in a body. The trees will be given all the care possible under the supervision of the volunteer fire department, who will safeguard their growth from whatsoever injury that may arise.

FINDS COLORS IN JARBIDGE DUMPS

That Jarbidge is to have "one of the greatest booms that ever happened," is the advice sent to Dr. J. J. Snider of Salt Lake City by his old time friend, and partner, George L. Jordan, says the Salt Lake Herald-Republican. At the time the letter was written, March 12, work was being done at only three or four properties, he said, but forty or fifty colors were to be obtained from panning any of the dumps, and his conclusion was that it would make a big low-grade camp, with plenty of water at hand.

"It looks good," he adds. "Some of the boys who have been here all winter have good properties, close in, and prices are reasonable, because they are broke and have put in such a hard winter. The deepest hole in the camp is a forty-five foot shaft. But this is the greatest tunnel site country you ever saw. The Tomboy hill in Seven Troughs, would be a foothill compared to these.

"I have been in tough countries to travel over, but this one beats them all. It takes four days from the railroad; three days by stage, and the last eighteen miles you have to walk or ride on horseback. And there are three gulches that a cat can hardly get in or out of. There are about 600 people here. The town is sold for more than a mile; only room for one street and a big river in front of the tents. There are three stores, four big lodging houses, two butcher shops, seven restaurants, and, in fact, everything that goes to make a mining camp except the booze, and I hear that something will be doing in that line before long. There is no lumber here and we have to eat and write on the floor. There is lots of wood and water and trout. There will be no work for miners until the roads are in condition to permit bringing in supplies without packing."

EAGLES WILL TURN ACTORS FOR ONE NIGHT

LOCAL AERIE TO GIVE AMATEUR PRODUCTION AT THE BUTLER.

Wednesday evening, March 30, the Eagles of Tonopah will shovel out, bushels of home talent upon the theater goers of this city. The aerie on that evening will trod the boards of the Butler theater, which has been kindly donated by Manager Jake Goodfriend. There will be three shows and each will be a pipkin.

Talent of all kinds have been signed and put under heavy bonds to appear. Some of the amateur actors have never been suspected of having designs upon a theatrical life, and the surprises that will result, will surely be amusing. A corps of experienced physicians will be in attendance to see that no fatalities occur over laughing. The full lineup will be announced later.

MADE TIDY FORTUNE IN OREGON TIMBER

PORTLAND, Ore., March 24.—Thirty years ago S. Benson, then 29 years of age, reached Columbia county on the Lower Columbia river. Foresight in business, $150 in cash, health and a young wife, who carried in her arms a baby boy, were his only possessions.

Today Benson, now 59 years of age, completed the details of the sale of the last timber and logging interests for a price which will make his total net wealth about $5,000,000. Every dollar of this was made in Oregon timber.

Thousands of other operators and claim owners have made money in Oregon timber, but Benson has surpassed in his earnings the returns reaped by any other man who began here many years ago. He bought timber when his friends thought he was a hopeless optimist with no sense of the future. Forest land that was purchasable for 25 cents a thousand feet when he began business can be sold now for $3 a thousand, an increase of 1,200 per cent.

ATTENTION EAGLES.

Tonopah Aerie No. 271, Fraternal Order of Eagles, meets tonight at Elks hall at 8 o'clock. Visiting brothers cordially invited.
